PECULIAR ZEAL.

When District Attorney Summerfield enforces a law, it is not because it is the law, but because the law applies to someone he dislikes.

He has been for months on the trail of Mr. Willis Clarke, and following him in the courts like a sleuth hound. For what, not because Mr. Clarke is a criminal, but because Summerfield has a score to settle with Clarke and because he has discovered some clause in the Constitution which he claims prevents a Federal office holder from being a Notary Public.

There is so little in a Notary Public office in this city, that nobody would spend ten dollars to fight the case, were it not for the peculiar reasons Summerfield has for venting his spite on Clarke.

Clarke was a member of the Grand Jury that put Summerfield in such a peculiar fix in the Davis case and he has been fighting to get even on the members of that Grand Jury ever since.

He dug up this law on Clarke and has succeeded after infinite labor and legal zeal and study in removing Clarke from the place and cutting down his income perhaps ten dollars a month.

The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court by Clarke.

If Summerfield were to display half this zeal in closing up Chinese tan games, running illegally, hunting the law on actual criminals and looking after the leaks made by boudlers in Ormsby county, his occupancy of the District Attorney's office would be of some benefit to the taxpayers.

THE GRAND JURY.

Pending the investigation of county officers by the Grand Jury there has been a widespread belief in this city that the Grand Jury would not endeavor to make a thorough investigation.

Whatever may have been the opinion of citizens or the APPEAL regarding the disposition of the Grand Jury to make an impartial search for truth, we feel that they are honestly endeavoring to reach the bottom facts. They have sent far and wide for witnesses and are now using every possible endeavor to reach everyone who has any information to impart. Every citizen who wishes to testify can so state to any member of the Grand Jury and he will be called on to do so. While there has been considerable criticism regarding the Grand Jury about the city, their labors of yesterday entitles them to consideration and the community will do well to suspend judgment until they make their report.

Commissioner Morris.

Having voted with Davis in all the stages of the printing contract, it is dollars to codfish balls that the APPEAL will make no effort to trump up any charges against Commissioner Morris.—Tribune.

Morris voted with the APPEAL because as he said it had the lowest bid before the board. Commissioner Morris has frequently voted against the APPEAL. We never considered that his friendship for the paper affected him in the slightest.

We have never investigated Commissioner Morris because we know of nothing in his long official career in this county that smacks of wrong. If the Tribune knows of anything against him as an official and will acquaint the APPEAL with the facts, we will show him up the same as anybody else. An official who does not obey the law has no business in office a single day.
